

Health Board Lifts Polio Ban For Children Under 16 Years; Schools To Open Here Monday

Health Authorities Will Permit Football Game on Sept. 22; Two of Paralysis Victims in Same Family

The ban on 16-year-old children congregating was lifted in Narberth Borough this week but in Lower Merion Township, where new cases of infantile paralysis were reported, the schools will remain closed.

In Lower Merion health authorities reported six new cases and in Haverford Township five new cases developed. One of the five new cases in Haverford died. He was Fred William Bencker, Jr., a Haverford Senior High School student and the son of an Army Medical Corps captain. The order issued by George B. Supple, health officer in Narberth, read: "By action of the Narberth Board of Health, the ban on attendance of all children under 16 years of age, at all private and public schools, theaters, churches, Sunday schools, public and private meetings places, will be lifted Saturday, September 15.

"All public and private schools in the Borough of Narberth will open Monday, September 17, provided no additional cases of polio develop before that time."

Health authorities in Lower Merion Township said schools would remain closed until there is an abatement in the cases.

It is understood they will permit a Lower Merion football game to be played on September 22. If the polio ban is still on at that time no 16-year-old children will be allowed to attend.

Health authorities have banned the sale of food and drink at the game.

The Township Board of Health met Friday night and issued the order which also prohibited the opening of parochial or private schools until further notice. In addition, children under 16 were ordered by the board to remain away from swimming pools, beaches, church picnics, school picnics, as well as all public or private gatherings.

Meanwhile, six new cases of the disease were reported in the township bringing the total since January 1 to 22, nearly double the number of cases reported during the entire 12 months of 1944.

The new Lower Merion victims are:

- Dolores Gilmore, 6, 103 Holland Ave., Ardmore.
- Susan Randour, 3, 110 Cricket Ave., Ardmore.
- Elizabeth Kreiter, 6, 1316 Hillside Rd., Wynwood.
- Montrose Megarage, 14, 947 Rock Creek Rd., Bryn Mawr.
- Charles Hutton, 6, 223 Simpson Rd., Ardmore.
- Elizabeth Ward, 7 1/2, 131 Grandview Rd., Ardmore.

The six children were all admitted to Bryn Mawr Hospital. The Gilmore child was diagnosed on September 4 as the Randolph child, the little Kreiter girl on September 7, the Megarage and Hutton boys on September 9, and Elizabeth on September 8.

James Hutton's brother, James, was taken to the hospital last week, making the second instance this year where two cases have occurred in the same family.

Ardmore Women Redecorate Club

To Open Doors For Meetings of Other Groups

The Woman's Club of Ardmore will step out this Fall with a redecorated club house, a larger club bulletin and open their doors as a meeting place for other organizations.

The Main Line Chamber of Commerce is one of the local organizations which has a tentative agreement to meet in the woman's club.

The last year the basement of the club house at 106 Ardmore Ave., was used by the Teen Age Club, a social group of Lower Merion Senior High School students. They met on Friday nights. Officers of the Woman's Club said this week they did not know whether the teen age group would continue their meetings in the basement.

Renovation of the club is being financed through the enlarged club bulletin which will carry advertising from local merchants. The new bulletin will be six by nine inches and have from 30 pages upward. It will contain a list of all club members with their telephone numbers.

The interior of the club house has been painted and papered under the direction of George K. Trautwein, interior decorator and architect.

The Ardmore club season will open on October 5 at 1 P. M. with a luncheon sponsored by the International relation group. "Modern Chinese Women" will be the topic of the guest-speaker, Mrs. Catharine Henderson, executive director of the United China Relief in Philadelphia. Mrs. Henderson was raised in Peking and Shanghai.

Mrs. E. Jennings will sing "A Chinese Lullaby" and will be accompanied by Mrs. Hayward Johnston. There will be an exhibition of Chinese art and statuary, loaned by the United China Relief and the Unusual Shop of Ardmore. The co-chairman, Mrs. W. H. Emlet and Mrs. R. F. Davenport, will be assisted by Mrs. C. Turner and Mrs. Wayne Donarchy, art and garden chairman.

A Flower Show and Auction given by the garden and conservation group will be held October 12 at 2 P. M.

Tea Next Tuesday
Mrs. Helen K. Fricke, 417 Treason Rd., Wynwood, will give a tea next Tuesday to the mothers of her pupils at the Woman's Club of Bala Cynwyd. If restrictions are cancelled, her school will reopen on Wednesday, September 18th.

Will Cautions Sons to Always Do Right Thing

One of the greatest gifts of a father to his sons was contained in the will of John M. Irvine, Lower Merion, who died Sept. 4, at Lavalette, N. J.

Mr. Irvine had real and personal holdings valued at more than $12,000 and all this he bequeathed his wife, Elsie A. Irvine.

To his sons, Samuel Wilmer and Chester A. Irvine, he gave "a father's love and a prayer that they may always do the right thing as they have been taught."

The will was written Feb. 26, 1934.

Rotary Club Hears Rev. Carl Dawkins

Minister Stresses Need for Service To Others

The Rev. Carl Dawkins, a member of the Upper Darby Rotary Club told members of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth club on Tuesday that the world would be a better place in which to live if there were better cooperation between the homes, schools and the civic service clubs.

He pointed out that Philadelphia had produced three men which upheld the creed of the Rotary Club which believes in service to others before self. The three men he named were Benjamin Franklin, John Wanamaker, founder of the famous store and Dr. Russell Conwell, founder of Temple University.

The meeting on Tuesday was known as Upper Darby day and 18 guests from that Rotary Club were present at the meeting. Karl J. Jenson, of the Upper Darby Club, introduced the speaker of the day. The Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth welcomed a new member on Tuesday: He is Frank Humes, a former member of the Harrisburg club who is now residing in Narberth.

Visitors at the meeting besides the Upper Darby guests were Cpl. Charles Stuppy who has just returned from Italy, Oscar Funk, a member of the Ardmore club and William Clime from Philadelphia. Cliff Rogers, Ralph Springer, P. Pippin, Dick Phillips and James Richie from Ardmore; Clarence Hill of the Clifton-Alden-Springfield club and George Barnes, an honorary member of the club.

Next week the club will have as its speaker Dr. Morris Wolf, who is head of social studies in high school at Girard College and who does editorial work for the Social Studies magazine. He will speak on "The United Nations Charter and the Plain Citizen."

Sgt. Hawkins Gets Posthumous Award

Purple Heart Sent To His Parents In Cynwyd

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Hawkins, 316 Kent Rd., Cynwyd, last week received posthumously on behalf of their son, Sgt. Philip D. Hawkins, the Purple Heart for military merit and for courage received in action during the war.

Sgt. Hawkins received the Air Medal July 16, 1944 and later the Presidential Unit Citation. He was reported missing in action August 2, 1945, from 8 to 10 P. M. aerial gunner with the 15th Air Force. On August 19, 1945 the War Department issued a presumptive finding of death.

The citation accompanying the medal read: "In grateful memory of Staff Sergeant Philip D. Hawkins who died in the service of his country in the Mediterranean area. He stands in the unbroken line of patriots who have dared to die that freedom might live and grow and increase its blessings. Freedom lives and through it, he lives—in a way that hampers the undertakings of most men."

Gloria Clarke Now Stationed At Rheims

Miss Gloria S. Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson A. Clarke, 406 Wimmer Rd., Wynwood, has recently arrived at Camp Balmore, near Rheims, France.

Miss Clarke has been assigned work as a staff assistant. She writes that the work is intensely interesting, very much worth while, and that additional workers are needed in all the clubs.

Miss Clarke is a graduate of Lower Merion High School, Ardmore, and the School of Horticulture, Ambler, Pa. Prior to her Red Cross appointment, she was employed at the University of Pennsylvania.

Last Undeveloped City Approach -- West Chester Pike

The following letter advocating the improvement and widening of West Chester Pike was written by Dr. Thomas Kelly, 119 Llandaff Rd., Llanerch, and sent to John U. Shroyer, secretary of the State Highway Department.

West Chester Pike is the last undeveloped main road entering Philadelphia. From Highland Park Westward it is the same road that has been in existence for the past 100 years. For a considerable distance West of Llanerch passengers alighting from the South side of the trolleys are discharged on to the main highway. The danger of crossing is further increased because many motorists do not stop when trolleys are discharging passengers.

Five years, preceding the war, when traffic was at a peak, this two-lane highway was considered one of the most congested thoroughfares in the East. It was not uncommon during the rush hours to find automobiles backed up for squares near 69th Street.

From 69th Street this highway runs through West Chester and Parkersburg and joins the Lincoln Highway, Route 30, at Gap, Pa. When automobile production reaches its pre-war level the Lincoln Highway is expected to become more congested than ever, especially through Wayne, Bryn Mawr and Ardmore.

Development of West Chester Pike as a four-lane highway would relieve the present congestion of the pike as well as provide an alternative route to relieve Lincoln Highway. By bypassing West Chester and Parkersburg this four-lane highway would provide a shorter route to Philadelphia from the Gap.

All of these improvements would greatly ease the flow of motor traffic between Philadelphia and suburban points. At the same time it would relieve suburban residential and shopping areas from congestion and annoyance of heavy motor traffic.

First Post Of 'Amvets' Formed In County

The first post of "Amvets", a national organization of World War II veterans, was organized in Montgomery County Tuesday night.

It will be known as the Post-town Post of Amvets.

The organization meeting in the Varsity Club, Poststown, was attended by 75 veterans of World War I and service men on furlough.

State Commander Norman Clock, Reading, was present. He spoke on the state conference to be held in Reading on September 29 and 30.

The Amvets has posts in 34 states. 20 of them are in Pennsylvania.

Ardmore Plans For New Legion Home

A. A. Walker Named Without Opposition For Commander

Plans may be discussed for a new and larger American Legion home in Ardmore tonight at a meeting of Bullock-Sanderson Post.

The annual election of officers will take place at the same meeting. Nominated, without opposition, for the vacancies are A. A. Walker for commander, Dr. D. MacFarlan for senior vice-commander, W. W. Helzer for finance officer, L. N. Gibbs for adjutant, A. Tinsaglia for sergeant-at-arms, Lt. Com. J. G. Armstrong for chaplain, and Dr. G. Basset for historian.

For the executive committee: R. J. Campbell, Jr., G. R. Graham, H. M. Harman, E. J. Helm, Jr., A. G. Jensen, R. D. Kistler, W. W. McCall and Dr. S. B. Sturges have been nominated.

The present American Legion home is at 125 Union Rd., Ardmore. During the past year the Post has taken in a number of veterans of World War II.

Increased membership and the need for more recreation facilities have influenced the Legion members in planning for a new home. Sites in Ardmore already have been inspected as a possible location for the Post. Legionnaires would like to build near the central Ardmore section if an adequate building or site on which to erect a building can be found.

General plans are to construct or buy a home that would provide all the recreational facilities that the returning veteran would want. The present meeting hall is no longer large enough to accommodate the increased membership, which is the largest in the history of the Post.

A group of wounded veterans from Valley Forge Hospital is expected to attend tonight's meeting. The U. S. O. will provide the entertainment.

Refreshments will be served.

Need Workers For Surgical Dressings

Main Line Branch Work Rooms Are Listed

Mrs. Joseph H. Collins, chairman of production for the Main Line Branch of the American Red Cross, is urging workers to give at least one day a week at one of the work rooms in order that the large quotas assigned to the branch may be reached.

She pointed out that there is an increasing demand for surgical dressings for the hospitals in the Philadelphia area and just because the war is over is no reason why this phase of Red Cross work should stop.

Workrooms in the Main Line Branch are as follows: All Saints' Church, Wynwood, Tuesday, 10 A. M. until 4 P. M.; Bryn Mawr Community, Bryn Mawr, Tuesday, 10 A. M. until 4 P. M. and 8 P. M. until 10 P. M.; Merion Tribune House, Merion, Tuesday 10 A. M. until 4 P. M.; Narberth Workroom, Narberth, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, 10 A. M. until 4 P. M.

Soldier's Reunion In France Fails

A reunion by two local soldiers in Germany recently went awry, much to their disappointment.

Captain Charles Slaw, Jr. wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slaw, of Righters Mill Rd., Penn Valley, that he borrowed a jeep and was given permission to drive 30 miles, starting from Paris where he is stationed, the corporal planned to journey to Rheims and join his friend and former neighbor, Pfc. Edwin Miller, of Academy Rd., Bala-Cynwyd.

Miller reached Rheims just after Miller had moved on, but made his trip particularly eventful by visiting the room where the treaty was signed ending the European War. Slaw, who expects to return home shortly, advised his parents also that on one trip he paid $5 for one dinner.

Brothers Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Littleton, of 24 East Newfield Way, Cynwyd, have learned recently that their sons, Ensign John E. Littleton, USNR, Executive Officer of the LSC (L) (3) 64, and Ensign Fredrick C. N. Littleton, USNR, Navigator of the LST 1085, met on July 10 in the vicinity of Okinawa. Both have been serving in the Pacific for some months, but this was the first time they had seen each other since leaving the States.

Garbage Complaints Reach High Mark in Past Month; Appeal to Bonding Company

Chairman of Committee Says Collector Is Not Even Living Up to Terms Of Wartime Agreement

Garbage complaints in the Borough of Narberth reached an all time high of 131, according to the monthly report of Robert Cameron, chairman of the water, light and health committee, presented at the Borough Council meeting on Monday night.

Cameron told the councilmen the Borough had written numerous letters to John Neubert, Parkside, Pa., who is under contract to collect the garbage, complaining about his work but with no results.

It was proposed that Solicitor Henry Fry write a letter to the company under which Neubert was bonded complaining of poor garbage collection. In this way the Borough hopes to avoid more drastic action.

Under the contract Neubert was to collect garbage throughout the Borough two days a week during the winter and three days a week during the summer. After the war began Neubert presented certification that because of fires and gas rationing garbage could only be collected twice a week during the summer. Councilmen accepted this explanation at that time.

However, Neubert judging from the complaints, said Cameron, hasn't lived up to his contract since the war ended. Complaints from Narberth householders have grown to large proportions, he said.

Also at this meeting the building committee reported three building permits issued during August and 25 building inspections made.

The police report seven traffic violations for the month, two auto accidents, one house broken into resulting in $9 damage. Three persons were bitten by dogs during the past month.

The council voted to bid residents of Shady Lane for $47 for repairs made on the street over and above the $600 already paid by the residents for this work at the estimated figure.

St. Mary's Choir Begins 52nd Year

The choir of boys and men of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Ardmore, will begin its 52nd season of consecutive activity next week. The famous choir, under the direction of Dr. James Allan Dash, sings at the regular 11 o'clock Sunday service.

Rehearsals for the boys are held on Thursdays at 4:30 P. M. and boys and men together on Fridays at 8 P. M. Boys and men wishing to join the choir are invited to see Dr. Dash at the church immediately before a rehearsal or after a Sunday service.

HERE AND THERE

by BETSY-ANN

Mrs. J. Raymond Ferguson, 335 Brookway Lane, Merion, Chairman of the Horse Show and County Fair held Sunday, September 9th, at Port Road for the benefit of the Northern Home for Children reported nearly 2,000 attended the affair this year, and the receipts approximated $4,000.

There were 25 classes entered—pony classes, hunters, jumpers, three gaited saddle horses and five gaited saddle horses. The champion in the saddle horse class was won by A. Gamber's "Starlight." The champion in the hunter class was E. S. Kindlan's "Midnight." Trene Randall's "My Gal" was reserve champion.

Many lovely donations were raffled off. Among the lucky winners in the vicinity were the Dennis Ryans of Moreno Rd., Wynwood, T. C. Cain Pillions, Chancery Rd., Penn Valley and the Frederick Bartlett of Winchester Rd., Merion.

There were gifts for sale, cakes, lot dogs candy, soft drinks, a farm table offering butter, cheese and vegetables. A "White Elephant" table offered all sorts of nick-nacks. Don't miss it next year, it's for a very worthy cause and everybody enjoys it.

Admission to the show, Mr. and Mrs. Paul I. Sullivan, 126 Woodside Ave., who was stricken with Polio several weeks ago, is making rapid improvement.

He has been removed from Bryn Mawr Hospital to Children's Hospital, 14th and Bainbridge St., for further treatment.

The Red Cross Work Room at Elm Hall is open Tuesday evenings from 7 until 10 P. M. There are thousands of new dresses needed at Valley Forge Hospital.

Lt. and Mrs. John E. Oatis, 200 S. Narberth Ave., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, born September 8th at Bryn Mawr Hospital. Mrs. Oatis is the former Betty Grace. Lt. Oatis is stationed at Alamo, New Mexico.

New books for this week—"Barintown" Edward Zeman Wallock. A sort of snapshot album of small town America in those early 1900 days of church suppers and buggies, when the winters were always colder than they are today, and when the rest of the world seemed unimportant and very far away.

"Song of the Dnieper" Zelman Simeon. Here is a luscious, full-blooded, robus novel, many peopled with rich, it tells the story of Shklov, the small Russian-Jewish village on the banks of the turbulent Dnieper, where tradesman new-rich and old-poor live the teeming existence that matches the restlessness of the river.

"Storm Tide" Elizabeth Oulvie. A sequel to "High Tide at Noon" a love story of the Maine coast.

"The West Window" L. P. Hartley. A quaint background of English sea-side life, one of the early, untroubled summers of this century unfolds the drama of Eustace, nine, and Hilda, his passionate, possessive daughter.

"In our additional work we aim to stimulate thinking, discussion and action in the vital issues of the day. Surely there was never a time when it was more important to do this. Our Speakers Bureau is glad to provide informed speakers for groups.

"In order to continue these services, it is necessary for us to solicit citizens for financial support."

Mrs. Benjamin Z. Strawbridge is chairman of the drive and the captains are:

- Mrs. B. Phipps A. Brunner, Mrs. Alfred C. Cooper, Mrs. Philip P. Hepburn, Mrs. E. Clark Kusterer, Mrs. Leon W. Melcher, Mrs. Daniel Mungall, Mrs. John Porter Scott and Mrs. Robert J. Bennett.

West Chester, is Publicity Chairman. Mrs. Thomas L. Kane is chairman of the Special Gifts Committee and the committee includes Mrs. Howard C. Kistler, Mrs. Gertrude Ely, Mrs. Harry E. Kohn, Mrs. James Lynd, Mrs. Jervis Brinton, and Mrs. Rowland Evans.

Man Sentenced To 2 Months in Jail

Charles Viguers Is Sentenced on Hit-Run Charges

Charles H. Viguers, Jr., 49, 114 Woodside Ave., Narberth, who last April was convicted in Common Pleas Court in Norristown on hit-run charges, has been sentenced by Judge Danneworth to serve two months in the County Prison.

Viguers, a prominent real estate operator, was arrested Jan. 28 by Lower Merion Police, the day after William P. Harris, 84, of 305 N. Narberth Ave., Narberth, was found lying on the road near his home with a broken leg and other injuries.

Taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital, Harris hovered between life and death before he finally recovered. After finding the injured man, police stated an investigation for the automobile they believed had run him down. A systematic search was made of all garages in the vicinity, and finally they reached Viguers' place and found his automobile with a damaged headlight and fender, in the garage.

The police parked in the vicinity of the Viguers home and finally, when the defendant appeared, they placed him under arrest.

Judge Danneworth, in pronouncing sentence told Viguers he was aware that the latter had paid Harris $1,000 for his injuries, but that he could not suspend sentence due to the seriousness of the charges against him.

Hold Meeting

The Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd held its first board meeting of the season Friday morning, at 10, at the clubhouse on Levering Mill Rd. and Bala Ave. Bala-Cynwyd, at which time plans for the coming year were formulated.
